Folies Bergere Show Offers Spectacular Entertainment

Acclaimed as the most thoroughly enjoyable production ever presented on the Pacific Coast, the lavish Folies Bergere is proving the most exciting entertainment Hollywood's famous Chinese theatre has ever presented. This production features 14 of the most spectacular show numbers ever offered on any stage. Opening the brilliant extravaganza is the novel and breathtaking beauty factory, in which living beauties are created on the stage and featuring the Spangled Nude.
 The Parisian Shop number, in which some 50 showgirls engage the eye in various stages of artistic undress and with new summer hats as their main wardrobe. Intact and complete, direct from Paris' Folies Bergere theatre the Revue is presented three times daily at popular prices; 2:30, 7 and 9:15 p. m., while Saturdays a special midnight show at 11:45 p. m. is added. Sunday shows are at 2, 4:30, 7 and 9:15.
 Peopled by some 75 talented and beautiful continental entertainers, the Folies Bergere is winning noteworthy praise for its theatrical fullness in entertainment, beauty, spectacle, novelty and that intangible quality which makes for a great show.

Walterians Score Hit in Drama

A large audience enjoyed the first stage presentation of the Walteria Guild last Friday night when "It Might Have Been You," a dramatic courtroom play written and directed by Harold Turner was staged at the community hall. Turner began a prolonged trip into the South American jungles the day after the show.
 Those in the cast were: Paul Stonecker, Chelsea Hamilton, Luella Lassen, Lyla Hansen, Dolores Huston, Howard Pritchard, Florence Hagberg, George Hansen, Joel Hagberg, James Dowd, William Wise, Gene Andrews, Sr., Bessie Stonecker, William Crowther, Zelma Wagner, "Chick" Crowther and Edward Wagner.

Lomita Flower Show Postponed

Because of slow development of flowers this spring, the Narbonne high school's annual community flower show, scheduled for yesterday, has been postponed until Friday, June 2, according to Lowell Fuller, school agricultural instructor.
 All other plans for the Lomita flower show in the gymnasium at Narbonne will be carried out as planned, Fuller said, with a total of 22 prizes to be awarded winners in divisions for cut flowers, potted and rare plants.

Mrs. Knight Is Walteria P. M.

Official notices received here yesterday announced that Mrs. Loy Knight has been advanced from acting postmaster of Walteria to postmaster. She has been connected with the postal office in that district since Jan. 1.
 Mrs. Knight intends to proceed at once with plans to modernize the store in which her fourth-class postoffice is now located, having held the work in abeyance until assured the office would remain in Walteria. She succeeded Nona DaNelle when that veteran Walteria postmaster retired the first of the year.
 The new postmaster is a former San Pedro high school student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gentry of that city. With her husband, Mrs. Knight resides on Park street in Walteria.

Supervisors Deny Dairy Permit

Application for a permit to operate a dairy at Carson and Figueroa streets has been denied by the board of supervisors, on recommendation of the regional planning commission.
 Grace Eberly, L. E. Rose, Mrs. Carrie Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barck, all of Route 1, Torrance, were among those who protested the dairy.

Nancy Kelly in Aviation Film

It might have been Greta Garbo, insisting that she "wants to be alone," or Freddie Bartholomew discussing sports, or Jean Arthur drawing something to the effect that she'd like to return to Broadway. It might have been—but it wasn't. It was Nancy Kelly all the time!
 During the two years Nancy appeared on "The March of Time" radio program, she doubled in voice for these and a score of other famous personages of the stage and screen. Now, on the same program they're impersonating Nancy Kelly. Time Marches On!

This seventeen-year-old star, who shares top billing with Alice Faye and Constance Bennett in "Tail Spin," 20th Century Fox production opening Friday at the Gardena theatre, has, in spite of her years, a professional record that would do credit to a veteran.
 "Tail Spin" which tells the story of three women who fly, offers the star her best role to date. In the film, she portrays a young girl who enters the dangerous business of airplane racing because she feels that, in so doing, she will be closer to her husband, to whom it means so much. It is said to be a magnificent performance.

'Dodge City' Tops In Entertainment

When a year ago film critics greeted Warner Bros.' "The Adventures of Robin Hood" with an overwhelming barrage of praise, as has ever been accorded a motion picture, they added that it was not possible to make a more colorful or more spectacular adventure picture. Only "Dodge City," which opens at the Plaza theatre in Hawthorne Saturday, can provide an answer.
 Most Americans who know their history of the pioneer West are familiar with stories of Tomestone and Deadwood, Wichita and Abilene, San Antonio and Santa Fe, and all the rest. But few are more than slightly acquainted with the most hair-raising town of them all—Dodge City, Kansas. In all the West of that period, so aptly described as "wild and woolly," Dodge City was the roughest, toughest shootingest outpost—what a visiting journalist described as the "bibulous Babylon of the West-ern frontier."

The entire action of the film takes place in the stop-over of railroad men in Dodge City. It begins in the Summer of 1872 when the Santa Fe's first train puffed across the prairie from Wichita and entered the cattle town that was just a settlement on the end of civilization.
 Appearing with Errol Flynn in "Dodge City" is a notable cast that includes, Olivia de Havilland, Bruce Cabot, Ann Sheridan, Alan Hale, Frank McHugh and others.
